Different ways that people can pray

A Christian prayer

This is an example of a Christian prayer:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

It is called "Our Father" and it praises God as well as asking God for forgiveness and guidance to

A Jewish prayer

This is the first line of a Jewish prayer, written in Hebrew letters:

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל. יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ. יְיָ אֶחָד.

The prayer is called the, "Shema" and this first line means, "Hear Israel, the Lord is our God, the Lord is one!"

The Shema is a long prayer that praises God but the first line is considered to be the most important as it tells everyone that Jewish people believe in only one God.

A Hindu prayer

This is an example of a Hindu prayer, written in Devanagari script with the translation next to it:

ॐ भूर्भुवः स्वः
तत्सवितुर्वरेण्यं
भर्गो देवस्य धीमहि
धियो योनः प्रचोदयात्

May my intellect be steady without agitation, May it be clear without anger or passion. May the brilliant light of the sun beam through my intellect so that perception of the world may be clear, my discrimination subtle, my judgment correct and quick, and my comprehension of persons and situations precise and wise.

It is called "The Gayatri Mantra" and is the most important Mantra (prayer chant) in Hinduism, praising Savitr, a Sun God. Some Hindus believe it is praising the One Supreme Creator, Aum.
